As part of an Erasmus+ project called Video Case Library 4 International Business (VCL4IB) (Project KA203 2018-1-Be02-KA203-046 832), funded by the European Union, the collection is an open Web and video accessed. They come from a variety of backgrounds, operate in a variety of industries and address many of the IB issues that companies face during internationalization. Take a walk, listen to some music, read a book or do some stretches. You also want to make sure you have plenty of water and some healthy snacks at your fingertips if you study for a while. In this collection, there are 14 video cases and 21 knowledge clips produced between 2019-2021. What are my options if I want to link to articles for a class so students can read them for free? View the collection case 1: Post-traumatic stress disorder 2: Pre-surgical assessment and management of the older break 3: Giant cell arteritis- ExperienceCase 7: an unusual case of syncopecase 8: an elderly woman with oliguria: contrast prevention Nephropathycase 9 induced: a case of depression in a patient with dementia. However, guest users and registered users can only view a limited number of free items per month. - If the HBR item is also in one of the 10 HBR e-books, you can connect to the ebook. Following each video case, one or more knowledge clips are added to link the video cases with academic insights, theories and frameworks. If you haven't had a full night's sleep, consider taking a short nap during the day to help you sleep. Handle your mind before you sit down to study, make sure you have a clear mind and you're not focused on something else. Resting for five minutes every 30-60 minutes can help you keep information. It creates the right environment, it creates a good study environment. Below are some of the more well-known sources. à As of 8.1.2013, Harvard Business Publishing has limited access to the 500 most popular articles of HBR (initial list à titles change over time) to "read only" in BSP. The MNC Whispering videocassette collection is a series of open-source videocassettes designed to bring more attractive education and training to international business (IB), with a new generation of students who are visually oriented, prefer video over text and use virtual communication rather than face-to-face. HBR articles in Business Source Premier (BSP, an EBSCOhost database) cannot be used for educational purposes. à The hbr.org website has many full text articles and it is good to link to them for a class. An exciting and up-to-date collection, each videotape deals with different IB topics. Find the time that works for you, and sit down to study and manage any task you have at that time every day or as many days as possible.Break It Up!EveryoneÀÀÀ. These articles cannot be printed or linked by a permanent link. It can be hard to pay attention when the TV is on or when you are constantly receiving messages from friends. The Library is already paying for these resources so your students can read them at no extra cost. Who can provide more information about the course package? The following message is displayed in the BSP article record: The editor offers limited access to this article. Can students use Business Source Premier on their own and cite HBR articles in their documents or courses? Maybe after dinner or just when you get home from school. Make sure you take breaks while you study too. Do whatever it takes to keep your mind in the right mood for your study time. Turn off your devices. à is HBP policy. The articles in Source Premier are only for the "research"; The articles used for "educational purposes" are not covered by the license and are not free for students.
